SECTION 9 | RISK TOLERANCE ASSESSMENT

Please read each question carefully and select ONE answer per question.
Your responses will be reviewed with your advisor to determine your appropriate risk profile.

PART A — RISK ATTITUDE | Questions 1–6

Q1. My primary investment goal for this account is:

- ☐ (A) Preserving what I have — I cannot afford to lose principal
- ☐ (B) Generating current income with modest growth potential
- ☐ (C) A balance of income and growth — neither dominates
- ☒ (D) Growing my wealth over time — income is secondary
- ☐ (E) Maximizing long-term growth — I don't need income from this account

Q2. If my portfolio dropped 15% in a single quarter, I would most likely:

- ☐ (A) Sell immediately — I cannot tolerate that kind of loss
- ☐ (B) Reduce my equity exposure significantly
- ☐ (C) Hold steady and wait for recovery
- ☐ (D) Stay the course — I expected this kind of volatility
- ☐ (E) Add more — downturns are buying opportunities

Q3. I have experienced significant market volatility before (e.g., 2008-09, 2020). My reaction was:

- ☐ (A) I sold or wanted to sell — it was very difficult
- ☐ (B) I reduced exposure and felt some relief
- ☐ (C) I held, but it was stressful
- ☐ (D) I held comfortably, knowing markets recover
- ☐ (E) I added money — the opportunity was clear to me
- ☐ (N) I have not experienced a major market downturn

Q4. When I think about investing, which statement best describes me:

- ☐ (A) Safety first — I don't want to lose sleep over my investments
- ☐ (B) I prefer stability and am willing to accept lower returns for it
- ☐ (C) I want reasonable growth and can handle moderate ups and downs
- ☐ (D) Growth matters most — I accept significant swings as part of the process
- ☐ (E) I am comfortable with high volatility if it means higher long-term returns

Q5. My investment knowledge and experience would best be described as:

- ☐ (A) Limited — I rely almost entirely on my advisor
- ☐ (B) Basic — I understand stocks and bonds in general terms
- ☐ (C) Moderate — I follow markets and understand diversification
- ☐ (D) Experienced — I understand asset allocation, sectors, and market cycles
- ☐ (E) Sophisticated — I actively research and analyze investments

Q6. The portion of this account I expect to need within the next 3 years is approximately:

- ☐ (A) More than 50% — this is primarily near-term money
- ☐ (B) 25-50% — I'll need a meaningful portion soon
- ☐ (C) 10-25% — some near-term needs, mostly long-term
- ☐ (D) Less than 10% — mostly long-term money
- ☒ (E) None — this is purely long-term capital

PART B — RISK CAPACITY | Questions 7–9Q7. My primary investment time horizon for this account is:

- ☐ (A) Less than 3 years
- ☐ (B) 3 to 5 years
- ☐ (C) 5 to 10 years
- ☐ (D) 10 to 15 years
- ☐ (E) More than 15 years

Q8. Outside of this investment account, I have liquid emergency savings equivalent to:

- ☐ (A) Less than 3 months of living expenses
- ☐ (B) 3 to 6 months of living expenses
- ☐ (C) 6 to 12 months of living expenses
- ☐ (D) More than 12 months of living expenses

Q9. My current income situation is:

- ☐ (A) Uncertain or variable — I may need to draw on investments
- ☐ (B) Stable, but I have little surplus beyond expenses
- ☐ (C) Comfortable — I have regular surplus and save consistently
- ☐ (D) Strong — I have significant income well above my needs

PART C — LOSS TOLERANCE STRESS TEST | Questions 10–12

Scenarios below reference a $500,000 portfolio regardless of your actual account size.

Q10. Scenario A: Your $500,000 portfolio drops to $400,000 (-20%) in one year. You would:

- ☐ (A) Sell most or all equity holdings immediately
- ☐ (B) Reduce equity exposure significantly
- ☐ (C) Hold — this is within the range I expected
- ☐ (D) Hold comfortably — I understand markets recover
- ☒ (E) Add more funds if possible

Q11. Scenario B: Your $500,000 portfolio drops to $325,000 (-35%) over 18 months. You would:

- ☐ (A) Exit entirely — I cannot sustain this
- ☒ (B) Reduce significantly, even at a loss
- ☐ (C) Hold — painful, but I trust the long-term thesis
- ☐ (D) Stay fully invested
- ☐ (E) Add more — this is a rare opportunity

Q12. Scenario C: Markets have been flat for 3 years. Your portfolio has neither grown nor declined materially. You feel:

- ☐ (A) Very uncomfortable — I expected growth and am questioning this approach
- ☐ (B) Mildly frustrated, but I understand it happens
- ☐ (C) Patient — I'm focused on the long term
- ☐ (D) Unconcerned — I have other plans for short-term needs
